President's October report:

October, done and dusted, and spring is here. Here's a short poem by Ogden Nash (instead of the other silly one we all remember):

*Spring has newly sprung
the hills are full of grass and along comes a billy-goat sliding on his overcoat down the summer pass*

Back to business. This month we have been able to return to the Milson Community Centre. We have run weekly one-on-one Tech Help sessions, which have been well attended. We didn't have large attendances at our other sessions, but we were expecting that. I think there has been a lot of 'wait and see'.

We want to continue with regular sessions, as we always have done, but we will have to follow what regulations are in place, what our landlord wants us to follow, and, most importantly, what you and our volunteers want us to do. We have started by initiating a survey - thanks to those that participated. We will use this information to guide us. We are also telephoning some members to get even more feedback. Whatever happens, we plan to still be here doing stuff.

On a lighter note, we are approaching the end of our year - and Christmas. We are planning a Christmas buffet lunch at Chinatown (it's becoming a tradition). I have enjoyed these in the past and I hope to see many of you there. There are details elsewhere in this newsletter.

If you are having any technical issues, or need help with something (like Zoom and SeniorHangouts) then drop us an email at seniornet.pnth@gmail.com We will see what we can do to help you. Or come along to a Tech Help session on Wednesday mornings.

Regards President

Upgrade to Windows 11 is ready for your PC

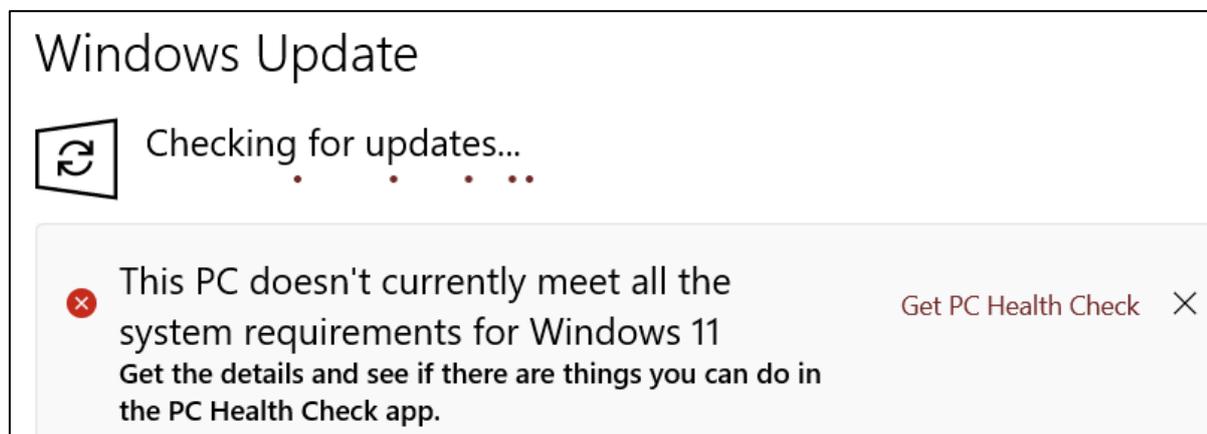

You do not need to proceed with this update as Windows 10 will be supported until 2025.

If you decide to go ahead, you will need to make sure that you have a backup copy of all your files in case there is a problem with the update.

However, when you visit Settings on your computer you might get this message!

As time goes by there may be ways of updating your computer, but older Windows Computers will not be able to run the new Windows 11 software.

A young Scot attends English university

Donald MacDonald from the Scottish Highlands, went to study Law at a renowned and austere English university and was living in the hall of residence with all the other students there.

After he had been there a month, his old mother came to visit him.

“And how do you find the English students, Donald?” she asked.

“Mother,” he replied, “they’re such terrible, noisy people...

The one on that side keeps banging his head on the wall and won’t stop...

The one on the other side screams and screams all night.”

“Oh, Donald! How do you manage to put up with these awful noisy English neighbours?” she asked her son.

Donald replied enthusiastically:

“Mother, I do nothing. I simply ignore them. I just stay here quietly, playing my bagpipe.”

What does archiving mean in Gmail?

Unlike Outlook, when you Archive a message in Gmail, the message is hidden from your Inbox view. So, in effect, archiving lets you tidy up your inbox by moving messages from your inbox into your All Mail label, so you don't have to delete anything. It's like moving something into a filing cabinet for safekeeping, rather than putting it in the trash can.

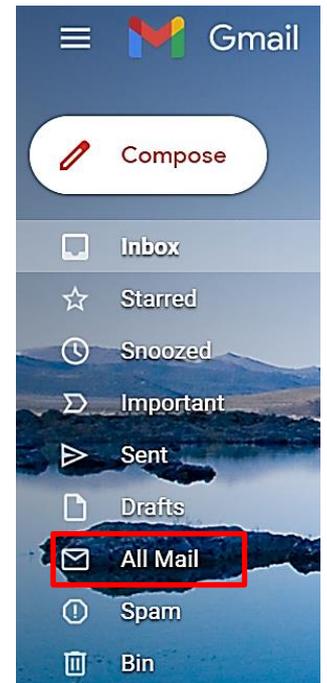

Any message you've archived can be found by clicking the "All Mail" label on the left side of your Gmail page. You can also find a message you've archived by clicking on any other labels, you've applied to it, or by searching for it.

And something cool ... when someone responds to a message you've archived, the conversation containing that message will reappear in your inbox automatically!

(Note: If you delete a message without opening, it will appear in All Mail)

To archive messages:

1. In your inbox, select the message by checking the box next to the sender's name.
2. Click the Archive button  in the toolbar above your message list.

If you have a message open, you can also archive it by clicking the Archive button above the message.

To move an archived message back to your inbox, follow these steps:

1. Click All Mail. (If you don't see All Mail along the left side of your Gmail page, click the More drop-down menu at the bottom of your labels list.)
2. Check the box next to the sender's name.
3. Click the Move to Inbox button.

If you'd like an option to automatically archive messages after you've sent replies:

1. Click the gear icon and choose Settings.
2. Locate the Send and Archive setting and choose the option you prefer.
3. Click Save Changes at the bottom of the page.

Once you enable the setting, you'll see a new button at the bottom of the page when you reply to messages. When you're done writing, click Send & Archive to send the reply and archive the previous message in one step, or click Send to send your reply but leave the original message in your inbox.

As this is the last Newsletter for 2021, we would like to wish your all a

A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS and Happy New Year!

ANDROID GROUP

Please diary November 17 at 1:30 pm in the Milson Community Centre for this month's Android Group Meeting. Yes, we will be having a face-to-face meeting!

We will cover the taking and handling of photos with your Android Device. This was originally intended for the October meeting but, with the Centre having only just been re-opened, and people perhaps being unsure as to whether we would have a face-to-face meeting, we decided to rerun the session this month so members do not feel they have missed an opportunity.

We look forward to seeing as many of you as can make it and John, Kevin and David will be there to demonstrate and answer any questions you may have. We will also help with any other Android Device problems.
